11:00am - 12:00pm Leadership for Business and Executives - Owing your Power
Keynote speaker: Corliss Rassyle

Corliss Rassyle is a respected leadership coach, author, and transformational speaker known for her ability to inspire clarity, confidence, and meaningful personal growth. With more than two decades of experience helping individuals and organizations strengthen their mindset, Corliss has become a trusted voice for people seeking purpose-driven success. She is the founder of Corliss Co. Consulting Inc. and the creator of several acclaimed personal development programs that empower people to lead themselves—and others—with intention and authenticity. Corliss is celebrated for her relatable storytelling, practical strategies, and her unwavering belief in the potential within every person.

In her signature talk, Owning Your Power, Corliss guides audiences through the transformative process of recognizing their inner strength and stepping boldly into their personal leadership. She explores how mindset, self-awareness, and intentional action shape the way we show up in our work, relationships, and communities. With a blend of inspiration and real-world tools, Corliss challenges participants to release self-doubt, embrace their unique gifts, and take responsibility for the influence they carry. Her message is energizing, empowering, and deeply human—reminding every listener that personal power isn't something you find, it's something you choose to claim.
